About This List:

Click on the page number and you'll be taken to that item.

There are many items on this list that are not represented in this Table of Contents. If you've downloaded this list and opened it with Adobe Reader, you can type key words in the program's Search box to easily search this list.

This is not a current availability, but rather a list of all trees and shrubs we are expecting to receive sometime between April and June of the current season. We cannot list our perennials, annuals, vegetables and tropicals because they are simply too numerous, and sizes and varieties are constantly changing.

While some of these plants will sell out throughout the year, we are constantly restocking our inventory right through to October. In some cases, sizes and prices of these plants may change slightly through the year. Also, we commonly receive plants that are not on this list, especially those whose season of interest comes in summer or fall. Unfortunately, time does not allow us to update the list during the season.

For most items, the SIZE column shows either the pot size or, for our larger field-grown trees, the caliper measurement (that is, the diameter of the trunk measured 6" from the ground). '#' next to a number designates that this is a container-grown plant, and the number given represents the rough number of dry gallons the container holds. Thus '#3' means '3-gallon container.'

Key to other Designations:

FP - Field Pot (plant was grown in a field, then dug and containerized)
B&B - Balled and Burlapped
HVY - Heavy grade (larger than typical for that pot size)

For more information on all of these plants, including light requirements, whether it is native to central New York, soils it tolerates, wildlife it attracts and more, including photos for most, click the link to the right and enter the name of the plant in the search box. There you can also search for plants that fit your requirements based on a number of parameters that you can choose.
